

Business Council in festive spirit

John Hutchinson from Kook Multimedia with Paul Burns from KB Consultants.

PHOTOS: BRETT WORTMAN/195829

Host Garry Crick, Sunshine Coast Business Council President Jason Law and councillor Debbie Blumel.

Business Council President Jason Law with MP Fiona Simpson and Jason McLellan from Suncorp.

Anne Lawrence from Boardroom Business, Colleen Lucas from the Daily, Ken Waddington from Garland Waddington Lawyers and David Harrys from Suncorp.

The boys from Garry Crick Prestige: Dean Forcone, Gavin Grant and Nathan Lacey.

THE Sunshine Coast Business Council held its festive drinks last week.

The council board and members mingled with MPs, business leaders and locals over wine and finger food at the Garry Crick Prestige showroom in Maroochydore.

It was an occasion to reinforce the council's focus on strategic business, employment growth and investment by working effectively with chambers of commerce, industry and the business community.

"We want to ensure robust engagement with governments so that the 'right' businesses for our region are considered when planning the future of the Sunshine Coast business environment," President Jason Law said.

"By exercising our leadership and cooperative advocacy we will ensure that the voice of business is heard."

LEFT: Geoff Bryant from National First Aid Training Institute, Steve Robinson from Master Builders, Deputy Chair of the Sunshine Coast Business Council Sandy Zubrinich and Jenny Butler from Sunshine Coast TAFE.